Colornote notepad notes ios

I felt that the change in note presentation format was unheralded and unforeseen by average users. As an accomplished senior technical writer and studied naval historian, I keep all my extensive manuscript development notes on this platform in a conveniently color-coded format for easy access and good organization. Sadly, everything you did recently to improve our Notes experience now has only served to move all these heter-skelter notes and reverse my color-based file scheme, in fact with folder entries that I used to have at the top for now displayed at the bottom, and making it have to reorder once again all the folders. Wow, what a task. It would have been nice if maybe he would have given us a quick warning to let us know what he proposed to do to update the platform. Not angry, just a little postponed for the extra work I felt was otherwise unnecessary. Also, can someone tell me how I can apply the Bold and Italics properties to any of my text entries? I think provisioning a smaller sub-application helps to help users understand how to do various things in the app could go a long way to maybe solving a lot of these otherwise minor issues. I appreciate the opportunity to at least express my opinion and provide this review. Currently ColorNote is only compatible with Android. The way to transfer notes to other operating system devices is by using 'email'. Send your notes to your email address and receive them on your new device. Open a note. Choose the Submit icon from the menu. Select Email or Gmail from the pop-up dialog box. Send notes to your email address. Receive the email on your new device. Open the Mac App Store to purchase and download apps. This helps you organize your notes, notes, messages, emails, shopping lists, checklists and to-do lists by COLOR. And without a doubt this app has the most annoying ads of any application I have used. If you like the app, just pay for the premium. It's a good app. If you don't pay for things, there are fewer annoying (but not so good) apps out there. I really like this app for using colors to help distinguish notes from each other. What I don't like is that you can only edit 'forward' and only one edit per entry of a particular note. For example, if I notice where I left a word or want to add something, I play where I want it to go. If the cursor lands in the middle of a word instead of at the end or on the wrong line, I have to exit the note and try again. I can't move the cursor with another tap on the screen. If I'm editing something and notice something else that needs editing, again I have to get out of the note and re-enter to do it. I think this is very tedious. This was a good app... when it worked! I've had for a while and worked well, but now it will not stay open and crash. I deleted and downloaded the app again, but then you can't download the notes back into the app even though they are supposedly saved to iCloud. It puts you in an endless loop. I tried to contact the developer for help, but there is no answer. I also noticed that it has not been updated in a year that could be part of the problem. I wouldn't pay for this app now or use it if notes you want to keep! The developer, CONG DUC TRAN, has not provided details about its privacy practices and data handling to Apple. For more information, see the developer's privacy policy. The developer will need to provide privacy details when submitting their next app update.
